With National Speaker Charlie Appelstein, MSW

When parents focus on what their children do right, when they search for and cultivate their children's strengths, when they practice the golden rule and use logical consequences instead of punishment - children mature and truly become all that they can be. This workshop will present a host of principles and techniques that help parents maximize the greatness that exists in every child and family. Topics covered include: What is strength-based parenting?, verbal interventions that engage and inspire, enhancing your child's self-esteem, using consequences vs. punishment, being developmentally aware, and how parents can manage their own emotions and responses.
